WE CATER TO THE DEMANDS OF The Up-to-Date Woman

We desire to emphasize the fact that while showing all that is best and most correct we still adhere to our distinctive and well-known plan of serving you with practical apparel at practical prices. Your advantage will be clearly shown by comparison of our fabrics, fashions and prices with those on display elsewhere.

Suits IN MANY STYLES at $25

We have Suits at this price that would astonish any one who had never seen one of our $25 Suits. The showing is exceedingly large, and has been selected with as much care, or even more careful consideration, than that given to our expensive lines, for it requires more thought to produce Suits that will look well and wear well for $25. These are shown in so many different styles that there is something suitable for every one. They come in both plainly tailored and trimmed effects, in chevrons, serges, worsteds and broadcloths, and in all the staple colors and new fall shades.

PLAIN and FANCY MODELS IN Tailored Suits, $35, $45, $58, $75

Our Strictly Tailored Suits from $35 to $75 leave nothing to be desired in cut, finish or material. At these prices we are also showing numbers of fancy models in exceptionally good styles. Among our display of more elaborate models, ranging in price from $75 to $200, are many in the three-piece style, now so much in vogue—that is, Princess gown with coat to match. In this large collection all the newest ideas in line and coloring are carried out with the most refined and charming results.

Costumes of Satin and Voiles, $20 to $75

We are showing a large line of handsome House Costumes and Semi-Dresses, in many exclusive designs and artistic colorings of voile, satin, ballises, messallines. You will be able to find among this very extensive showing as simple or elaborate a costume as you may desire; but whatever style is selected, you may depend upon its being the very best of its kind, correct in every line and detail.

EVENING COATS AND CAPES, $8.75, $20, $25, $35 to $125

Many charming styles are shown in Coats and Capes at the above prices, in both light and dark colors. Among the different models are those suitable for evening wear, or for afternoon wear over the gown of satin or cloth.

NEW DISPLAY of Millinery

If you have not seen the Kaufmann Hats this season you are not doing yourself justice, and those that have seen our earlier models will wish to announce that we are daily adding new models, and we'll be pleased to have you to inspect the same all this week.

Medium Priced Millinery from $4.98 to $12

Special attention is directed to our showing this week of the more popular priced Hats, $4.98 to $12. They are the newest effects for autumn wear, and are so very reasonable in price when the materials from which they are made are taken into consideration. They are the big, stunning Hats for those who prefer them, and plenty of the smaller shapes, equally as stylish, if they are more becoming to you. The trimmings, as well as the shapes, are varied—fancy feathers, wings and flowers being much in evidence. An especially distinguishing feature of this showing is that there are hardly any two styles alike.

Women's Untrimmed Hats and Trimmings
Home milliners especially—economical women who will trim their own fall hats—will be benefited by special values we have to offer this week.

NOTE

Our new arrival of Wings and Fancy Feathers direct from Paris is the most magnificent ever displayed in the South. Your inspection is desired.

Paris Baby Hats and Bonnets

(THIRD FLOOR)

For faithful expression of Directoire styles, see the pretty head coverings that Paris has sent us for the very little folk. Such quaint, scoop-brimmed Poke Bonnets; such picturesque Round Hats; such curls as the curls at the back and coquettish rosettes under brims at the front, were worn by the graceful dames of the Directoire atop of short-waisted, scant-skirted, sweeping gowns.

The new styles are infinitely charming on fresh little faces.

There's a White Felt Bonnet, heaped with pink roses, made of ribbon. There's a deep Poke shape of coral silk, touched with black and cream lace. There's a darling Black Poke Bonnet, with heavy lace—but every mother will want to see this Paris readiness for little folk with her own eyes. Particularly we mention they are exclusively imported by us, and may be had at low prices—$7.50 to $20.

Splendid showing of Fall Coats and Dresses for Children.

SOCIETY

The aqua-marine, the opal and the beryl, symbolical of hope, are the gems which belong to October, brought back again in the annual circling of the seasons to set wedding bells a-tingling and to propel pretty debutantes nearer the time when they are to make their charming curtsies to the elder world of society around them, which they are about to enter. Perhaps it is because the stones which spell hope in the gem alphabet belong to October that the month has been chosen by brides for their marrying. Hope enters largely into the vows that lovers make and paints alluring pictures for the eyes of the maiden who is to pass from maidenhood to bridehood during the misty splendors of Indian summer, the harvest home time of ancient days and peoples.

The Children of Israel copied many things from the Canaanites, among them the harvest home idea. Later the vintage celebration appeared among the Hebrews as an act of worship to Jehovah, and was called the Feast of Tabernacles, because every one lived in booths or tents during the festival, in memory of the years when the nation had no settled home. The Romans kept their harvest home, the Festival of Ceres, on the 4th of October, with processions in the fields, music and rustic sports, and a table feast to crown all. The harvest festival of the ancient Greeks was the Feast of Demeter, the goddess of agriculture and the goddess of harvest. It was celebrated in Athens and lasted three days. The symbols of Demeter, offered in her honor, were poppies, ears of corn and fruits.

In England the keeping of the harvest home can be traced back to the Saxons and the time of Egbert. It still has its local survivals, and in the northern part of Northumberland, when the sickle is laid down and the last sheaf set on end, the reapers announce the fact by loud shouting, the last load is borne to the barn in a wagon known as the hock-cart, a pipe and tabor go merrily sounding in front, and the reapers, male and female, trip around in a hand-in-hand ring, shouting and singing. Herrick's verse shows how old the custom is, for he says in the following lines:

"The harvest swains and lassies bound
For joy to see the hock-cart crown'd,
About the cart hear how the rout
Of rural younglings raise the shout;
Pressing before, some coming after,
Those with a shout, and those with laughter;
Some bless the cart, some kiss the sheaves,
Some prank them up with oaken leaves."

In Virginia the offering at the altar and a beautiful service answer the need for the spiritual pouring out of the harvest home season. Otherwise, in the Tidewater part of the State, it used to be known as "corn husking time." In the days of the old South, at the ingathering season, the mellow chant of the harvest songs fell musically on the ear, with the moonbeams silvering down and the red flames dancing merrily upward, with the tossing sea of corn ears growing high and ever higher, with the dusky forms of the huskers keeping time to the rhythmic swell of their leader's voice—then, indeed, one witnessed as picturesque a festival as could be desired, a celebration that, having been seen and heard, remained indelibly stamped upon the memory.

Of late years the harvest home keeping and the later November Thanksgiving have become merged into one, and both into the annual football struggle between rival universities and teams. The University of Virginia and North Carolina teams will struggle for supremacy in Richmond this year, and the pretty buds will dance the Thanksgiving German with victors and vanquished afterward.

October Brides.

During this month a number of fashionable weddings in Richmond and throughout the State will be celebrated.

On Tuesday, October 6th, Miss Louise Atkins, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Stanley Atkins and the late Judge T. S. Atkins, of Richmond, will be married to Dr. Fletcher Jordan, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., now a resident of Greenville, S. C., the wedding to take place in Monumental Episcopal Church at 8 P. M.

The country home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Frazier, Thornwald, Greenbrier county, W. Va., will be the scene of the wedding of their daughter, Elizabeth, on October 14th, to Mr. Lloyd Ross Freeman, of Norfolk. Miss Frazier made her debut in Richmond, and has scores of friends here who are much interested in everything concerning her approaching nuptials.

Miss Elsie Goddin, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Goddin, of No. 617 West Grace Street, will be married to Mr. Charles A. Painter on October 8th, at 5:30 P. M., in Grace Street Presbyterian Church, a reception to follow the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents.

On account of illness in the family of the bride, only immediate relatives will be present at the marriage of Miss

Clare Grundy Beirne to Mr. John Leary, on October 17th. The ceremony will be performed in the home of Miss Beirne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Leake, of No. 915 Park Avenue.

Maddox—Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Robinson have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Inez, to Mr. Charles Wesley Maddox. The wedding will take place Wednesday morning, October 14th, at 10 o'clock, in St. John's P. E. Church.

Expected Here.

At Woman's Club it is expected and hoped that Miss Katherine Stuart, of Alexandria, will be present to-morrow afternoon and address the ladies of the club in the interests of the Audubon Society.

The usual social gathering will certainly be held, and the hostesses of the afternoon will be Mrs. J. Arthur Leary, Mrs. Stewart M. Woodward, Miss Anne Archer and Miss Frances Munford.

At Columbia University.

Miss Mary E. Frayser, of Richmond, who has been awarded a scholarship in the domestic and art department of Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York City, has entered upon her new work, and will be at the university during the winter. Her course relating to scientific methods in food preparation, and to art in its relation to the home, textiles, dress, furniture and architecture, is most comprehensive and thorough, bearing directly upon the realm of the useful and beautiful, in which all women should, if possible, be well versed.

The Cotillion Season.

The opening of the cotillion season this month will inaugurate much pleasure, especially for the younger smart set of the season.

Misses Ella and Lillian Binford will give a cotillion October 30th, at No. 308 1-2 Floyd Avenue, and Miss Nancy Selden and Miss Louise McKay at No. 14 West Main Street on a date to be announced later.

The cotillions will divert the minds of the young people from their present craze for roller-skating and happily leave the sidewalks to their elders.

Delegates to Convention.

Delegates to the convention of the Virginia Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, that will be held at Manassas October 11th, will leave Richmond at noon on Tuesday, October 13th, over the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, reaching Alexandria at 2:30 and Manassas at 5:18 P. M.

Delegates who have so far notified the president of Richmond chapter of their intention to go to Manassas are Mrs. Thomas S. Boccock, Miss Minnie Baughman, Miss Mary B. Baughman, Mrs. B. A. Henner, Mrs. J. H. Timberlake, Mrs. J. Enders Robinson, Miss Corling, Miss Williams, Miss Lucy Munford, Mrs. W. R. Vawter, Mrs. J. W. White and Mrs. William Chapman. Any other delegates desiring to go are requested to notify Mrs. Randolph, at 8 North Laurel Street, at once, so that the Manassas chapter may be informed and proper accommodations secured.

Miss Rand Guest of Brother.
Miss Marjorie Rand, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is the guest of her brother, Mr.

Walter Rand, of Ellersson. She will also be the guest of Miss Annie Dickinson before her return. She will be the recipient of many social affairs, and her friends here will endeavor to make her stay in Virginia a pleasant one. From here she will go to National Park Seminary, where she will resume her studies.

Will Hold Autumn Meeting.

The board of managers of the City Mission will hold its annual autumn meeting at 10:30 A. M. to-morrow, in the auditorium of Woman's Christian Association. All members are urged to attend.
